“ It's been a long, joyful, fruitful journey through this life. From childhood to adulthood to marriage partner to parent. Only by His grace, did you have a wonderful wife to share your life. It is hard to lose a spouse after being together so long and still in love for all that time. Willie, I remember when we were kids, you barely a teenager and Rev Littlejohn and Aunt Amelia and then we switch to today. My sincere condolences to you and your children. May your loss be a reminder of all the goodness you shared. I find it helps to think about all the good times that you lived when your memories come rushing in to claim your attention--and to thank God for those memories. Sending much cousin love to you!
