

Benjamin Grant Weiss

April 12, 2005 - January 14, 2022

Benjamin Grant Weiss died unexpectedly, at the young age of 16 at Norfolk General Hospital on January 14, 2022.

Benjamin got the nickname "BB" when he was one week old. While at Walmart, two ladies came up to us saying, "He's a Beautiful Baby", and held him for about ten minutes.

Benjamin was such a great kid, who never talked back. He was, very obedient, and had a very contagious smile that made you smile. Even on a bad day, he kept you laughing with his corny jokes and silly phrases. He loved running, swimming, video games, lifting weights, spending time outside in the woods and mountains, taking pictures, and flexing in the mirror. He also loved art, classical music, eating four toasted peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, five boiled hotdogs, with no buns, and a bottle of water. He further loved Krispy Kreme donuts, but hated ice cream, watermelon, crabs, and soda. His love for animals caused him to want to be a Vet when he finished school. Yorkies and cats were his favorite animals.

One day when he was four years old, we went to Norfolk Zoo. People were moving to the left and some to the right because in the walkway was a lizard, the size of a pinky finger. Benjamin walked right up to it, and with his little foot up, he smashed it. People looked in amazement, then kept on walking.

However, we were so embarrassed. That was Benjamin Grant Weiss, the special and unique young man that we will love and miss forever.

Benjamin leaves to cherish his wonderful memories: his parents, Sabrina and

Robert Weiss, Jr.; two sisters, GarAysa Williamson, Rebekah Weiss; four brothers, Adam, Jones, Jayson, Robbie, and Mat Weiss; his favorite nieces, Aryiah and Aubri Mitchell, and Rylee Weiss; two nephews, Raymond and Baby Enzo Grant Weiss; his grandparents, Mildred and Larry Jones, Brenda, and Don Mitchell, and Janie and Robert Weiss; his favorite aunt, Amanda Jones, Shannon Smith, and his beloved, the late Jennifer Popina; his uncles, Victor Jones, Charles Eure, Jonathan Nash, Rodney Weiss, and the late Joseph Weiss; great-grandmothers Marion S. Knight, and Nancy G. Crotts. He also leaves behind, a ton of other aunts, uncles, cousins, friends, Mack Benn, Jr., Kings Fork Middle, and Kings Folk High School families,

Will miss this young man. He had grown so much since I seen him. He was such a sweet young man. Always love pulling his hair. Praying for you all. Can not imagine the pain of losing a child but asking God for strength for the family. We love you all.

“ I am grateful that I was afforded the opportunity to teach Ben. Ben was one in a million. From the day that you stepped foot in my class, I knew that there was something special about you. Your smile pierced our hearts each day that you entered. My favorite memory of you was remembering the fact that you never wanted to go to P.E. class. No matter how many times I walked you down, you always found a way back to my classroom. Each time that I turned around, you smiled and waved at me. I knew I was one of your safety nets at school. Ben had a sweet caring spirit with a passion for drawing. He always wanted to show me what he was drawing instead of completing my assignments. He always wanted to come back during exploratory work to make up any missing assignments. He would hide under the table until after the students were gone, so that he could stay and finish his work by himself. I will never forget you Ben. I was so proud of each picture that your mother would share of each thing that you accomplished. I love you Ben and I will always have a special place in my heart for you.

“ I remember BB when he was in my mothers daycare . He was so sweet and had the pure heart . He was so active but yet so humble he was my favorite little daycare mate. When i was pregnant and came home for the holidays in 2009 he wanted me to just hold him all day and every time i would try to put him down he would cry and want me to pick him back up. That was my buddy BB!! 💜 😭
