“ I could write a book about Ms. Lillie Mae. So many adjectives to describe her, funny, honest, God fearing, phenomenon women. Always giving and had a smile that would light up the room. She was my neighbor and my friend, my other mother who will always hold a special place in my ❤️ heart. I ate at her table many of days and always carried plates across the street. When she could no longer drive and shop for herself I was her Uber driver. She would write the list or leave me a message con my phone of what to bring home. She would call and say, This is Lillie Beale, I love you Red., and hang up. She tell my mom Erdie Boone her best friend that she give birth to me but I am her child. She was also proud of my accomplishments. I am going to missing seeing her door open, turning the dogs out, the front porch light on and seeing her sit in the door. And oh yea not to mention the TV bring turned up so loud, 😊😊😊. God had plucked a beautiful flower. Watch over me my angel. Now take your rest. I love you
