“ Even though I’m still shocked and in disbelief. I choose to remember the good days. The days that we would laugh to the point we were crying, the weekend trips with the group to Virginia, the church skating rink trips, etc. I pray that God wraps his arms around your family during the hard time. You will forever live in my heard. Class of 2007 will never be the same.

“ I'm going to miss you. An I wish that I would've now found more time do spend with you. You are an angel in my eyes. You where Heaven sent. You never new this but your mom gave me her maternity clothes to wear to have your cousin Brittany. No wonder y'all love each other so much. You are a covering. I miss you an I trust that God's who began HIS good work in you an ordained you even from the beginning has you even now. Your family love you. And most of all Heaven know there are few hearts on earth like yours. Your heart is pure. And He said the pure at heart shall see God. Will you tell God for me to please remember and keep us your entire family. And kiss grandma Britt for me. I love you and miss you. And I pray for your mom and dad they love you too. But you already knew that. God bless the Walter and Darlene Kelly family. God bless your sisters , brothers, nieces, nephews, great aunts and uncles forever. Amen

“ I knew him when we was little kids and he was always nice. He liked to joke around and I am just in shock he died. I have not seen him since high school and all I can see is that little kid conversing with friends. He was just a good person and its so sad he died trying to get home.
